Dedication

The IV Form deems Miss Marguerite B. Grow worthy of recognition beyond a mere handshake or a smile; thereby, to her, we, the Class of 1956, dedicate this issue of Hockaday. "By nature honest, by experience wise," Miss Grow, in her thirty-six-year service to Hockaday, has witnessed the founding of many traditions and is steadfast in her loyalty to them. Even to those who have never been privileged to attend her classes, she has shown an interest both in their school life and in their future. In those of us who have attended her classes, she has inspired a will to strive for the worthwhile pleasures life offers, instilling in us a faith which surmounts any discouragement or defeat. Having traveled much, she brings to Latin, believed by many to be a "dead language," a restoration to life and a vividness that would be engaging to those least imaginative.

She not only has faith, but she is faithful to school and to her students. To her, life and love are precious and with her life and her love, she is generous. Her constancy in spirit outshines the sun, for, though her own heart may be troubled, her sense of obligation to us is never eclipsed. "In the true heart" of this distinguished and familiar figure, often seen wearing a beret and carrying a brief case, we "account more strength than in a walled city."

HOBART F. MOSSMAN President

My congratulations to the graduating Class of 1956 and to the Annual staff, in particular, for your many achievements during the past year. We are proud of your work in the classroom and in the many extra responsibilities which you have so willingly assumed.

It is our sincere hope that this annual will remind all of you, in the days and years to come, of the many pleasant experiences and friendships that have been yours while attending Hockaday. It is our wish that these experiences and associations will serve as an inspiration to you as you move into your future and assume your several responsibilities. It has been and will continue to be the philosophy of the school to provide character building as well as academic training fundamental to the assumption of leadership, which is so vitally needed in our society of today and which will become an important factor in the years just ahead of us.

May the knowledge which you have developed become, not only a reminder of your days spent on the Hockaday campus, but a source of strength, inspiration, and happiness for each of you.

I am proud, indeed, of the Class of 1956 and its record of achievement.

President

Hobart F. Mossman

MISS ELA HOCKADAY President Emeritus

Mere words cannot express the affection which Miss Ela Hockaday's many admirers had for her. Miss Ela was not only the founder of a notable institution; she was an institution in herself. All who came in contact with her were impressed by her poise, her devotion to duty, and her sincere interest in each individual's problems.

Throughout the world are women who, as students at Hockaday, captured and still demonstrate something of Miss Ela's thirst for knowledge, her ideals of beauty, and her deep Christian faith.

What better way could "her girls" reflect their esteem for her than by continuing in her same spirit of promoting learning, beauty, and faith.

BONNIE ALLEN
Dean of Students

To the IV Form:

I have known you briefly; nevertheless, it is clear that as a group you share a vigorous and exuberant pleasure in the business of living. What better gift could a schoolmarm wish for her students than that they may continue to have life more abundantly? I do wish it for you, and I add my hope that your dealings with it may be tempered by qualities you have begun to learn here: personal and mental discipline, discrimination, allegiance to your society, an inquiring mind, courage to support the truth, charitable relationships with all human beings. These values are never fully comprehended. They must be lived with for all the years of one's life. Thus, my second wish for you is that you may never cease to grow in intelligence, curiosity, and an understanding heart.

Fourth Form

From September to June the Senior calendar was packed with many memorable events. The year began with the Senior trip to Lake Texoma. Great Hall was the setting for the Christmas formal dance. The Senior play held the spotlight for January. A perfect ending for the series of spring parties, given by the members of the class, was the Prom, which was held at the Statler Hotel in latter April.

As the main school projects, the class published the directory and was in charge of Chapel.

We, the Class of 1956, want to thank our sponsor, Mr. Thomas Merriman, for his help and guidance throughout the year and to wish the Class of 1957 the very best of luck.

An ebullient lady is Martha Baldridge of Fort Worth. Martha, who is called Teta by her many friends, well deserves the numerous honors she has received in her four years at Hockaday.

A versatile, co-operative cherub, Martha has participated in the majority of the Hockaday functions. Besides taking an active part in school activities, as is required of the Fourth Form president, Martha loves to talk on the phone, to party, to swim, to date, to eat, and to sleep—especially to sleep.

Martha has a sympathetic spirit which makes her the confidant of many. Her warm and sparkling personality endear her to all, and it is often said that Martha is the typical Hockaday girl.

Sue has always been a great class favorite. Her bright smile and friendly "hello" make her all the more well-known and loved at Hockaday. A sincere and genuine person, she, concerned and considerate, finds no service for someone else too great.

Her most noticeable characteristic is probably her voice. Perhaps it is not outstanding in quality, but it does carry, for Sue can out-talk almost anyone and be heard above any number of people.

The quality we love her most for, however, is her humility, or just "being herself and no more," for it has been proved that no matter how many honors and recognitions may be bestowed upon her, she will always remain the same happy, natural, wonderful girl we all know as Sue.

Nancy Beaird came to Hockaday as a senior and made a place for herself immediately. A hard worker and a reliable one, too, she has contributed much to Hockaday activities. The most logical place to find Nancy around the campus is at the mail box. She simply exists for letters!

Nancy's interest is not centered in sports or any specific activity, but rather in people. She gets along easily with everyone and enjoys helping others whenever she can. Nancy will like any place she goes because of her ability to make friends so easily.

A long, blond pony-tail can be seen flying in a long, white convertible every morning before school. The personality in front of the hairdo is Betty Ann Beckett. Betty parks her car, gives her pony tail time to settle, and then with a cheerful "Hi" greets everyone all the way down the hall and until the bell rings for chapel.

Willingness and friendliness can surely be attributed with great force to this student. Of course, she uses her wide smile forcefully at all times and all places. Next year Betty hopes to take her ponytail and her smile to New York to become a link in Vassar's daisy-chain. We all wish her good luck.

From the western city of Midland, Texas, blows Judy Bliss, full of fun and energy. For the last two years she has given Hockaday girls many laughs. Judy has many friends and possesses that rare trait of being one who will always stand up for her friends. Animals likewise find a defender in Judy. Her old Chow, Mr. Woo, is one of her favorite friends in the animal world.

Hockaday is proud that Midland shared Judy and wishes her the best of luck in the college of her choice.

A vivacious and stimulating force was encountered when our Tripolitan exchange student came to Hockaday. Annamaria's potential "projectiles," containing animation, a richness of thought, and intellectual curiosity, work together to act as a force, and dexterity radiates her component parts.

As a classmate, Annamaria reveals a complaisant disposition; as a friend, she makes bare her heartfelt interest; as a young lady, she displays gentleness, modesty, and refinement.

Thank you, Hockaday, for giving us the chance to experience a small part of our lives in contact with a truly fine European girl. We wish her continued success.

To describe "Cheek" is impossible! She is especially known for her outstanding personality and her infectious laugh. Her two favorite pastimes are sleeping and daydreaming, at which she is quite adept. Her hobbies are tennis and — boys.

"Beautiful Betty," as she jokingly calls herself, or "Bad Betty," as she is called by others, plans to go East to college and with her "Ivy League look" will certainly fit in.

In her two years at Hockaday she has proved herself to be one of the girls that Hockaday can be proud of!

Little legs trying to keep up, the familiar cry, "Hey, wait for me," or a little head bobbing up and down trying to see over the crowd all indicate the presence of Anne Conway, lovingly called "Aunt Anne." Short only in stature, Anne is tall in her number of friends, her quality of brilliance, and her own particular type of humor. Each member of her class, having heard of Anne's trip to Europe for at least four times, enjoyed the story each time because of Anne's wit.

Any college will welcome Anne. Her classmates will miss her.

Sandy, a sympathetic and understanding friend, is always the girl who gives the needed boost to her schoolmates.

The stage is one of Sandy's main interests. She plans to study dramatics in college. After finishing her education, who knows, her name may be in the lights on Broadway. However, Sandy interprets classical and modern dance equally well. She just might excel in that field!

Sandy's presence cannot be missed, for she is friendly and gay and carries that constant gleam in her eye. Sandy will always be surrounded by friends.

Veeva is full of pep, and she gives much enthusiasm to her team as a White Cheerleader. She is loyal to her classmates and will do anything for a friend. Her friendliness and courtesy to counselors and teachers, as well as to her school chums, have marked Veeva a true Hockadaisy. She has contributed much to programs and other activities with her art work.

Her college will gain a fun-loving and capable girl.

"Guess what? I won a piece of candy for everyone in the class!" This proud statement comes from Jean after a quite successful lesson with Miss Grow. Not only does she excel in Latin but also in math.

Jean's dry humor has been a constant source of entertainment to everyone at Hockaday for the past four years. Her sincere friendship is to be treasured by one and all.

Our best wishes go with you, Jean!

"Boomer Sooner" resounds in the hall and everyone knows "Sister Johnnie" is arriving. Joniece entered Hockaday as a sophomore, and soon her loyalty to Oklahoma, her enthusiasm to her class, and her friendliness to everyone won love and respect.

Joniece's sympathetic brown eyes invite confidence; she is truly a friend for those in need. Poster-making is one of her many talents, and her posters for the Green Team manifest this art.

"I seem to have the knack of saying the wrong thing at the wrong time which makes up my sense of humor," says Joniece. But to people who can unravel her sentences and decipher her handwriting, the words reveal the understanding of a wonderful girl and a loyal friend.

Gail was new last year, but she immediately showed that she was a real Hockaday girl. She has enthusiasm, friendliness, and sincerity. She is always willing to do more than her share of any task.

Academically, she excels in mathematics; however, she enjoys each of her subjects. Because Gail always does her best, we predict great success in life for her.

Throughout the past five years, Gloria has been a familiar sight around the campus and has proved herself a worthy asset to Hockaday. With her radiating smile and bubbling enthusiasm, she is always willing to participate or lend a helping hand. While much of her time was spent last year in sharing her happiness with the patients at Children's Hospital, she has proved her reliability and capability this year in her contributions to the Inter-School Relations Committee.

Courtesy, generosity, and cheerfulness are just a few of the many qualities which have won, and will continue to win, Gloria her many friends.

For many years we have seen the bright, bubbling face of Georgia Gray around the Hockaday campus. Georgia is one of the most fun-loving seniors, and she is loved by everyone who knows her. Georgia is capable and responsible, as was seen by her work on the dinner committee for Dads' Day.

Although Georgia attended another high school last year, she returned to her many friends at Hockaday this year. She always seems to be having trouble with her current boy friend, for it seems that Georgia is somewhat fickle. Georgia may be fickle as far as boys are concerned, but she is true to her friends and is always ready to lend a helping hand.

Good looks, talent, and a keen intellect are a few of the characteristics which make Lockie Sue loved by everyone. Her vivacity and enthusiasm contributed greatly to her position as Green Team Cheerleader. Lockie has demonstrated interest and initiative in all of the various committees and class offices she has held.

"Junior" would not be the same without "Big Mama" to settle problems and give advice to her "children." A love for fun and a sense of humor are combined in the stories related by Lockie Sue. The class agrees that no one can compare with Lockie Sue's sweet disposition.

Admired and respected by everyone, Lockie Sue will go far in anything she undertakes.

Ann Hamilton exemplifies to us all the excellent qualities found in the 1920's or any time, for that matter. She has an ever-ready laugh, seemingly never having a serious thought. Never sarcastic or complaining, she can find the amusing side to any situation.

Ann, originally from Lubbock, has perfectly adopted herself to Hockaday. In her two years here, Ann has made innumerable friends. Her gay personality and warm smile have made her a favorite with both faculty and students.

A good part of Ann's almost unending store of energy is spent in leading cheers for the White Team. She does not, however, allow her extracurricular activities such as basketball, the Drama Club, and the Spanish Honor Society to interfere with her studies. If ever you see a pretty, laughing brown-haired girl charlestoning across campus, you know she's Ann Hamilton, a girl Hockaday is truly glad to have had as a student and is happy to welcome to the alumnae group.

A quiet and friendly "Hi, you-all" identifies Shannon in any crowd. Her humor, generosity, and sincerity make virtually everyone her friend.

One of her main interests being horses, she often brings the name of her own horse Bonnie into her conversations. In her years at Hockaday Shannon has concentrated primarily on athletics in her extra-curricular activities. As Green Team captain, she has shown her possession of leadership, spirit, and sportsmanship. Taking stock of Shannon's qualities makes us know that she will be greatly missed next year.

The qualifications of a Foreign Exchange student are many; it is easy to detect these in Hilde, who was chosen to represent Austria. Hockaday is not only proud, but very lucky, to have Hilde this year. Her sincerity, initiative, enthusiasm, friendliness, courtesy, athletic ability, and eagerness to learn American customs and terms are only a few of the splendid characteristics of Hilde.

The winning smile, the glow in her eyes, and the quick understanding of Hilde will be everlasting in the minds and hearts of everyone who knows and loves her.

"Hello Bukareena!" is the cheerful greeting most often given by the green-eyed, blond-haired beauty named Ann Hereford. The word, meaning nothing in particular, is no cause for alarm; it is just "Beehive de Booty Boo" language, a product of Ann's imaginative and fun-loving mind. She will be most remembered by the Class of '56 for her sophistication and for her sudden, unexpected outbursts of excitement. Ann enjoys tennis, water sports, and trips to T.U. One thing about Ann is certain: if she's not giving her time to Hockaday, she's charming some male. Ann has been an asset to Hockaday during her nine years. The Class of 1956 wishes her happiness in the years to come.

Sincerity, generosity, graciousness and consideration are qualities which do not adequately express Carolyn's personality. A willing worker throughout her many years at Hockaday, Carolyn has done more than her share. She is a worker; yet, she works quietly. She is a leader; yet, she leads quietly.

Besides her numerous school responsibilities, she has many outside activities. Carolyn is on the Dallas Juvenile Traffic Commission. She is quite interested in church work and participates in a number of church activities. She quite ably represented Hockaday at the Student Council Workshop at S.M.U. this past summer.

Carolyn's interest in animals benefited the Science Department through the loan of her pet monkey, Frankie.

Wherever Carolyn goes she will take an active part. We say, "Good luck, Carolyn!"

Versatile is defined as "turning with ease from one thing to another; having many aptitudes." Jane more than fulfills Webster's definition and stands as an example of versatility. As a sportsman, rarely is she absent from either the hockey field, the basketball field, or the tennis court.

As a student, she pursues science and mathematics with gusto, language with perseverance, and history with enthusiasm. An an individual, she is lighthearted, but kindhearted. Even her freckles can't hide her infectious grin. From a very ambitious nature, and an even more ambitious heart, is derived a leadership which is Jane's alone.

Holly is one of Hockaday's principal natural resources that can be exploited forever. Blessed with originality and perseverance, Holly can formulate ideas as fast as she can drink cokes. Whether she employs her determination in improving school work or in organizing the Carnival, she accomplishes her purpose.

She exercises her creativeness in writing and in art. A noted hockey fullback, Holly enjoys sports, too.

Holly's very existence is dedicated to the service of others. Unselfishness in giving of herself without limit is the core of her being. Because she is very sensitive to the feelings of others, Holly has an instinct for knowing how to help and to encourage those about her. Holly's spirit of giving is her "magnificent obsession."

Dorothy, "five foot two, eyes of blue," may seem shy, reserved, and unfriendly at first sight, but her quick wit, her sense of humor, her understanding ways, and her sincerity make her a true and loyal friend. She has earned the honor of wearing the Courtesy Cap and because of her excellence in her scholastic record, she has become a member of Cum Laude. She has worked conscientiously this year as chairman of the School Service Committee and has directed her committee toward accomplishing much in the interest of the school.

She doesn't study all the time, however, for she has made several trips to Norman to look over the University!

Dorothy will truly be an asset to any school.

Full of vitality and endless energy, Jerry came to Hockaday four years ago. She is loved by all who know her, for her outstanding personality radiates warmth and cheerfulness. Jerry receives loads of mail daily not only from her family but also from members of the male species. Along with an endless list of correspondence, Jerry has quite a picture gallery of past and present admirers who would do justice to any movie magazine.

Jerry has a very pretty voice. She specializes in bathtub vocalizing, although she has had experience for four years in the Hockaday Glee Club.

Jerry's winsome ways will soon collect a host of friends at college to equal the number she has at Hockaday.

The Fourth Form's class chauffeur, beauty, and official party-giver is Maggie. She will be most remembered for her smart clothes, her love for a particular Hawaiian moon, and her notorious slumber parties.

Besides being a great asset to Hockaday since the fourth grade, she is also a leader in numerous outside activities. The Dallas Juvenile Traffic Commission and the Dallas Junior Symphony League, of which she is president, are two of her interests.

A dry wit and an ability to see humor in the ordinary make her a gay addition to any crowd. These are the reasons that no matter where she goes, or what she does, our Maggie will be among friends.

Barbara's light brown hair (with its unusual golden streak) and twinkling blue eyes identify her. Possessing an inborn wit, Barbara's candid comments can be counted on to bring life to any meeting. She is recognized for her popularity with the opposite sex, her "Now you-all," and her blue and white Chevrolet.

In a more serious vein, her scholarship has been recognized by her initiation into Entre Nous and Inner Circle. Barbara's vibrant personality will continue to win her many friends.

Although Cherry is small in stature, she contains what seems to be a limitless supply of energy. She not only carries her share of the load, but she is always ready to lend a helping hand. Her unself-ishness and her artistic ability have contributed to practically every organization at Hockaday. This year, as editor of the 1956 annual, Cherry has combined her many talents to give us what we repeatedly say is "the best annual yet."

Cherry possesses numerous desirable traits; however, the one which she will best be remembered for is her overwhelming capacity for friendship. It is not easy to find a better friend than Cherry King.

Horseback riding, painting, dancing, swimming, and playing tennis are among her many accomplishments. Her boundless energy and her willingness to accept responsibility contributed to her being elected president of her house. Her charm, her wit, and her effervescent personality have permanently endeared her to her school chums.

Lelya, from Shreveport, Louisiana, entered Hockaday in the Second Form. "Lele," as she is often called by her friends, has a quiet and considerate manner which is noticed by all.

Whenever the need arises, Lelya can be counted on. She does not participate greatly in athletics, but on the sidelines she never fails to cheer.

Lelya's interests are quite varied. She loves to write letters and is quick in answering the ones she receives. She also has quite a collection of porcelain "holy" and purple cows.

Suzanne is fully qualified for a variety of jobs, from hockey playing to sketching; and any job set before her will be successfully completed in a quiet manner.

Because of her sincere desire to help other people, we predict a happy and rewarding future for Suzanne.

Courtesy, consideration, honor — these three qualities are possessed by our Patty from Post. Good-natured sweetness combined with big, blue eyes and a cheerful smile emphasized by winking dimples makes Patty a pleasant and attractive person to be around.

Being quite lady-like, this young miss looks as if the most strenuous exercise in which she participates is piano playing, but step aside when basketball and hockey season rolls around, for she's a mean hand at both.

Through serving on various committees and clubs, Patty has manifested deep interest and devotion to her school and fellow students.

Patty will continue to be one of the best-loved girls from Hockaday.

Her African dance for Stunt Night in her Third Form year and her choreography for the can-can number for the Entre Nous Moulin Rouge this fall will not soon be forgotten.

Although her foremost interest is ballet, Judy does not allow it to limit other activities. She likes music in any form, has participated in many class activities, and has made herself known by her hearty contributions to all phases of school life.

Wendy, bounding hurriedly down the hall, dissimilis deae, is a sight familiar at Hockaday. Known for her sense of humor and her silly moods, she has that rare ability for being truly amusing.

Full of ebullient enthusiasm and always well-informed, she stimulates any conversation. Wendy is identified with her love for history and foreign languages. Through her intellectual curiosity and her eagerness to learn she has achieved a high level of scholarship.

Wendy, with her excellent qualifications, will certainly be a valuable asset to her college.

When Myles Mathers came to Hockaday last January, she fitted into the routine perfectly. Never in either the academic or the boarding life was she ill at ease. At the beginning of the year she was elected president of House Five and has been a very capable leader.

Myles had the romantic lead in the Fourth Form play, proving herself quite an actress. This quiet and charming girl has a cheerful word and a smile for everyone. Everyone at Hockaday has come to love her more each day and to realize her abundant quality of infinite kindness. We shall miss Myles.

The five-foot-five, blue-eyed brunette f r o m Wichita Falls, Texas, is most readily recognized by her warm smile and high spirits. Natalie is known to love Mexico, its people, and its music. Her abilities are well displayed in sports. Natalie, a right-handed pitcher, is feared throughout Hockaday for her softball talent. This lovable senior wins the hearts and best wishes of many through her generosity and faithfulness.

During her eight years at Hockaday Mary Sue has excelled in many things; she is most famed, however, for her exceptional art work and superior dancing skills.

Last year she did caricatures of almost the entire Third Form. This year she has amazed Hockaday with her Moulin Rouge drawings which brought recognition to Entre Nous as well as to herself.

Mary Sue will, and can, dance everything from the Hula to the Mambo, from bop to the classical. The Glee Club has been very fortunate in having her do the choreography for many of its programs.

Other than for her art and dancing Mary Sue is easily recognized by her unusual voice, which she refuses to recognize.

Many things may trouble her, but nothing worries her more than her 19-inch waist which she is positive would be much more attractive at 15 inches.

Blowing in with the West Texas sand four years ago, Jo Oakley began a new road which has led her to many friends, achievements, and, of course, fun. Jo has been a familiar sight in the Glee Club for her entire four years. She has worked diligently in her studies. Having a quick smile, Jo is known for her dependability and willingness of spirit.

When Jo leaves Hockaday she hopes to go either to Colorado or to the University of Arkansas. Our best wishes to her wherever her road leads.

Quietly, with innate dignity, she passes; she possesses poise beyond her years; an inner beauty is hers.

Gone somewhere is the fat chubby little girl who objected so strenuously to her hair being red: auburn, copper, burnt gold, but not red. In her place is the lovely Diane whose sense of loyalty and devotion gives her a special place in the hearts of all who know her.

At Hockaday the often-heard sound resembling that of Donald Duck is Nancy Philen's sneeze. Full of fun and vitality, Nancy has no equal.

Besides being a good student, she loves sports and excels in almost anything she attempts. (We might mention her singing ability here!) A perfect bait for a joke or tall tale, this gullible girl is quite capable of making mischief herself. However, Nancy has her serious side, too, and is one of the most considerate and sincere girls at Hockaday.

Wherever she goes to school, this Brownsville Bombshell is sure to make a big hit.

A tall, blond girl with "that model's figure" is Louise; in fact, modeling is one of her favorite activities. During her spare time she may be found in any of these places: Austin, Fort Hood, Washington.

As exchange editor of the Four-Cast, Louise has somehow managed to keep up with all sorts of names and addresses; still she sends the papers out on time. Besides doing this job well, she is always willing to take on little extra tasks or help out with almost anything that needs doing.

A valuable member of her class because of these qualities and many more, she will, we know, be just as valuable to her class next year and the years following.

No girl has loved Hockaday or been loved by Hockaday more than Ann. Since entering Hockaday two years ago, she has been both a boarding and a day student. Ann has become a favorite, noted for her genuine sincerity, her sense of humor, her graciousness, and her sweetness. She has set quite a standard for her younger sister Jane to equal.

Although Ann is quiet, one can easily become acquainted with her. To have Ann for a friend is to have a loyal and considerate one.

She will be remembered for the sparkle in her eyes which indicates her true zest for life. We wish Ann a life filled with happiness.

Sallie, alias the "Minden Milkmaid," comes to Hockaday from Louisiana. Our class clown is known for her practical jokes, her dancing talent, and above all her faux pas. Sallie, seemingly with enough energy for two Hockaday girls, enters into numerous outside activities. Her main outside interest deals with the Indians, and, after college, Sallie intends to teach on a reservation.

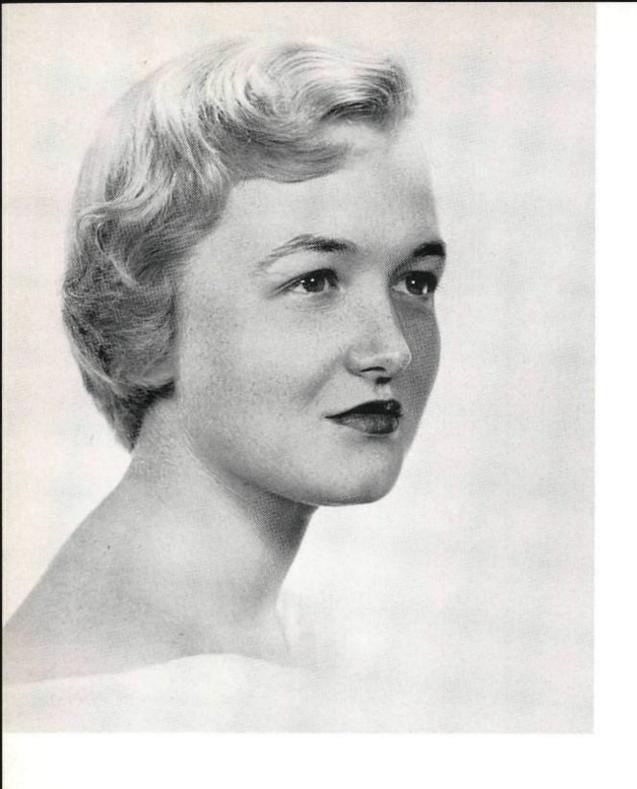

Her laughter, sense of humor, and understanding are part of her sparkling personality which SMU will gain next year.

Since Betty entered Hockaday two years ago, her poetic ability has been a continual asset to the class. She has contributed to the Four-Cast both years.

She can frequently be heard saying, "But youall, what'll I do?"

During her time at Hockaday she has gained in poise and popularity. Her witty conversation will make her long remembered at Hockaday.

When you hear a merry laugh from the other side of the room, you can almost be sure it's coming from the New Mexico blonde, Cita Smalley. She has a glowing personality that makes every one around happy. Her tales about both Old and New Mexico have kept many of us at Hockaday intrigued for hours at a time.

Cita is a dependable, intelligent, and pretty girl, one that Hockaday is proud to have as a coming alumna.

Five years ago a girl from the "red dust and tall pines" of Gladewater, Texas, arrived at Hockaday. Who? Patience Starnes.

Patience has a lovable sense of humor. Her personal affability and understanding make her a friend to anyone.

We know there will never be another Patience Starnes at Hockaday!

An infectious laugh, a mischievous smile, a heart given to others without denial; a sense of values lofty and strong, innate leadership, pulling gently along; wisdom and scholarship guiding each thought. The quality of courtesy finely wrought; humor and seriousness balanced out, self-confidence overshadowing doubt; outstanding achievements with modesty abide—in a spirit of honor personified. God's blessing was given in a quiet way when Francie came to Hockaday.

Would you like a good chili pepper? Do you know the latest Cha-cha-cha step? Have you heard the latest travel news from Mexico? For all of these, go to the fifth house on the Row where Madeline Utay is the able president. Madeline's petite size and the active part which she takes in numerous school functions do not coincide.

Madeline has a terrific sense of humor, an infectious giggle, and that rare quality for winning friends. These are a few of the qualities which will make her a place wherever she goes.

From Crossett, Arkansas, comes "the little sixfoot Arkansan," Nancy Watzek. Quite attractive, poised, and very talented, especially at the piano, Nancy is always thoughtful and considerate of others.

Friendliness, sincerity, and courtesy are only a few of Nancy's many outstanding traits. Any conversation with her will eventually drift to the subject of either her many trips on the Watzeks' yacht or Penny, her horse.

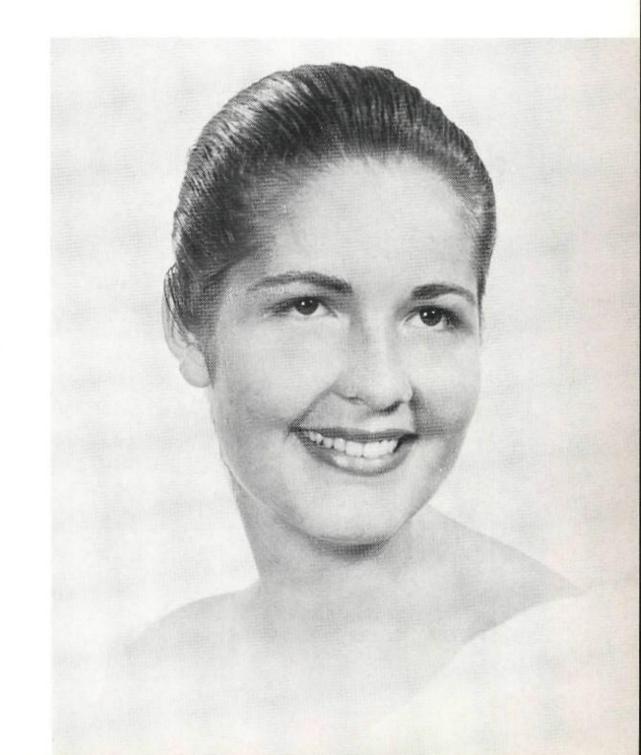

Both Hockaday and Arkansas are rightfully proud of this "little girl."

Betty Weichsel is a petite Fourth Former with a peppy personality combined with a wonderful sense of humor. Betty's incessant studying, which has become a characteristic of hers to many of her friends, has made her a constant member of the Honor Roll. Like Betty, her handwriting is petite and neat.

Her leadership qualities are shown as she presides as Consul at meetings of the Dux Femina Facti. One has often said, "Betty knows the Dux backward and forward." Truly she knows all that needs to be known about the Society.

Her energetic personality makes her a pleasure to be with. Any college will find Betty a great addition.

Irene, a girl from Hereford, is typified by her ready smile and her big blue eyes. "Hi, Hun," said in a deep and gurgling voice, is an example of her friendly ways toward all.

As president of "Junior" this year, Rennie has shown a capacity for leadership and responsibility. Acrobatics is one of her many talents, and she can literally tie herself into knots.

When it comes to being a true friend, Rennie ranks among the top. Her sincere interest in people and her willingness to help them make Irene one of the most loved girls in the Fourth Form.

A charming worrier, Charlotte is either concerned about her assignments or her appearance. In either case, she has no cause for anxiety. Our sincerest wish is that Charlotte may continue to have no cause for worry.

Spirit, friendship, loyalty, joviality, sincerity, and leadership combine to reveal the lovable character of this year's president of House Council. Janey, better known as "Womble," is continually busy doing those little things that make life more pleasant for those around her.

Since coming to Hockaday in the Third Form, she has gained the respect and affection of both faculty and students. Should someone be troubled with a problem, "Womble" is always in sympathy and generally has a solution to end the anxiety. Never blue, but always with a witty remark, she has been a constant source of gaiety on the Hockaday campus for two years. Next year, Duke's gain will be this priceless and true Hockadaisy.

Since Alice entered Hockaday in the fourth grade, her wonderful sense of humor, her enthusiasm, and her loquaciousness have distinguished her. Known especially for her relatives and her extreme fondness for Duke University (and the weekly telephone calls!) she has endeared herself to the whole school. Combining academic work with extracurricular activities, she excels in both.

Alice's genuine courtesy was rewarded in the spring of 1955 when she was awarded the Courtesy Cap, and she was among the nine girls to receive the Hockaday Ring in the Third Form.

There can be no doubt that whatever college Alice chooses, she will be as big an asset there as she has been at Hockaday.

Third Form

We, the members of the Class of 1957, wish to express our deepest appreciation to our sponsor, Mrs. Charles Biggs, whose guidance has been of the greatest value in preparing us to take on greater responsibilities in the coming year.

As a class, we have enjoyed working together in taking care of the study hall and of the corridor, in selling pencils in the bookshop, in keeping the bulletin boards clean, and in making visits each Saturday to the Texas Crippled Children's Hospital.

Our formal dance on January 28 was approached enthusiastically and, as a result, was enjoyed by everyone.

To follow the Class of 1956 is an honor and a challenge. To each 1956 graduate the III Form extends congratulations and a wish for continued success.

Second Form

"Second Form" means more than just the class of 1958, for it stands for the girls both old and new who set out at the first of this school year to make it a successful one. Their immediate teamwork was apparent at the Charity Carnival where the class was awarded the trophy for "Most Beautiful Booth." Other qualities were recognized with the awarding of the Citizenship Flag in February. The II Form projects in which all participated included helping in the bookshop, keeping the trophy case, and picking up the absentee slips. The climax of the Form's social activities was a formal dance held in April. The class wishes to thank Miss Roberta Biery for the guidance she has given us throughout the year.

We, the First Form, wish to express our thanks to our sponsor, Miss Lydia Moody, who has helped us to adjust to the newness of high school as well as to guide us towards class unity.

The projects of the First Form have included bringing flowers for the desks of administrative members, caring for athletic equipment for Physical Education classes, donating magazines to the infirmary, helping in the library, and selling apples. ### The Lower School Council

For us in the Lower School, this year has been particularly rich and rewarding in associations with students of the Upper Forms. Even our very youngest girls have come to know and love the "big girls," who, as part of their Physical Education work, have responsibly and skillfully taught them to swim and to play new and exciting games, have helped them cope with the intricacies of the cafeteria line, and have sat patiently with them during rest periods.

We, too, have welcomed the interest your Student Council has shown in the activities of our Council. For the girls who represent Green and White Hall, it has been a pleasant and worth-while experience to take part in occasional discussions with Upper School Council members and to learn something about the more comprehensive Student Government in which they themselves will participate in years to come.

These and the many other ways in which you have shared your activities and yourselves with us have contributed immeasurably to strengthening the ties between Upper and Lower Schools. Our thanks and our best wishes to you all.

The Student Council

The Student Council, an elected body, consists of the presidents of the following activities: House Council, Athletic Board, First, Second, Third, and Fourth Forms; the chairmen of the Student Council Committees act as members ex-officio. The Student Council is the planning body of The Student Government Association. In the Student Government Association and, consequently, in the Student Council rest the following responsibilities: the promotion of a self-governing body of students through emphasis on individual and community interests; the maintenance of the standards of integrity necessary to an honor system; the stimulation of interest and loyalty in school activities; the strengthening of the individual's understanding of his position in the community through education of the principles of self-government.

The House Council

JANEY WOMBLE President

The House Council is composed of the presidents from each house and hall of the residence department. In its weekly meetings, the Council discusses problems which inevitably arise in group living. The Council makes an earnest effort to prevent, yet to understand, each mishap and tries to deal fairly with each case.

The Hockaday Boarder's Pin is awarded in the spring to those girls who have proved themselves worthy by their good attitude, loyalty, sincerity, friendship, and good housekeeping.

We are indeed grateful to Miss Pond, who has helped make House Council a success by her advice, her ability to understand and solve problems, and her cheery ways.

Student Counci

The Community Service Committee's highest aims are to help the Hockaday girl become more aware of the needs of others and to interest her in fulfilling these needs through service. Service is rendered by the student body and directed by the Committee in two fields: material and personal aid to others.

The projects sponsored for the former purpose are the Charity Carnival, the Christmas gift program for the Marlow School, and such numerous Junior Red Cross activities as the holding of a production party and the filling of a gift chest and of gift boxes. Activities held for the latter purpose are exchange chapel programs with the Good Will Industries, weekly visits to the wards of the Texas Children's Hospital, and two parties for Dallas orphans' homes.

Membership on the committee is filled by student Council appointment plus sixteen other girls, four from each Form.

HOLLY HIRSHEIMER Chairman

DOROTHY JOHNSTON Chairman

The School Service Committee is a Student Council Committee whose purpose is to initiate and carry out services which benefit the student body. It is composed of three representatives from each Form, in addition to a secretary, a co-chairman, and a chairman appointed by the Student Council.

The main projects this year have been sponsoring a meal committee to meet with the dietitian to give student suggestions, organizing and publishing a handbook for new students, and reassigning Form projects as permanent duties for a specific Form.

SHERRY NEILL Chairman

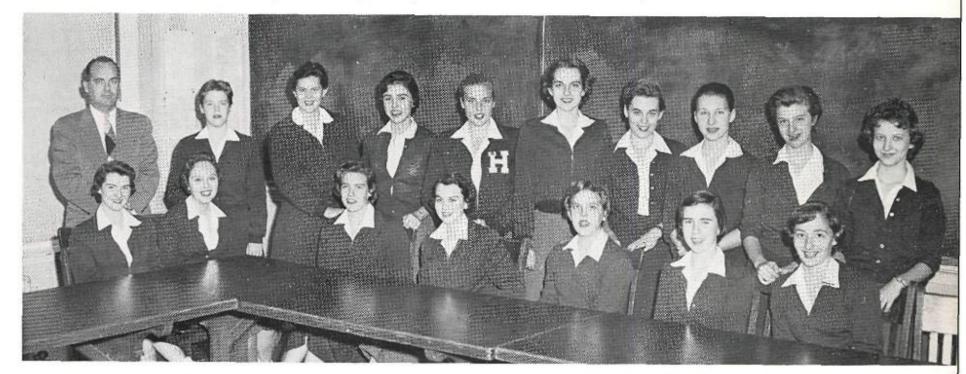

The purpose of the Inter-school Relations Committee is to promote better understanding between Hockaday and other high schools. It plans exchange chapel and assembly programs, assists the Athletic Board in entertaining visiting teams, and helps to integrate the upper and lower schools by sponsoring parties and games periods.

The committee is under the auspices of the Student Council. Its chairman, a Fourth Former, and co-chairman, a Third Former, are appointed by the council, as are the three representatives from each Form.

The Dux Femina Facti was organized in 1939 to further the knowledge of the "traditions, ideals, and principles of Roman life."

In the consulship of Anne Conway and Betty Weichsel programs have included a celebration of Virgil's birthday, a Saturnalian party, illustrated reports of travels in Egypt, Greece, and Italy, a delightful and informative talk on Greek and Roman dances, and an initiation ceremony.

Each year the society awards these emblems: a key to each member who has belonged for a year and a half, a palm branch to the Virgil students who have attended every banquet, and Virgilian medal to the student who has made the highest grade in Virgil.

On May 5 the twenty-fourth annual Roman Banquet was held. Original plays, poems, dances, music, and a hymn were offered in honor of Diana and Apollo, and the third issue of the Forum Freepress was dedicated to them. Highest ranking Latin students from private schools in Texas and Oklahoma as well as from all the high schools of Dallas and Highland Park attended as honor guests.

Entre Nous, founded in 1929, is the French Honor Society at Hockaday. Its purpose is to stimulate further interest in anything pertaining to France or the French people. A girl is eligible for membership when she completes a semester's work with honor grades. All third-year French students are admitted as honorary members.

The initiation was held in Tarry House this year. Initiates were required to know French history and grammar, the first stanza of La Marseillaise, and to submit an original eight-line poem about an initiated member. Afterwards, at 7:00 p.m., a French dinner at Le Vielle Varsovie was attended by both old and new members. For the first time, new members were presented with their pins.

Tu Tertulia, The Spanish Honor Society, an outgrowth of the Spanish Club, organized in 1925, by Mrs. Oram, was changed to an honor society in 1944, at which time it adopted its present name, Tu Tertulia. Membership consists of both active members, students with an average of at least 85, and associate members, students from Spanish-speaking countries who have a fluency in the language, and any student taking Spanish III or IV.

The purpose of the club is two-fold: (1) to acquaint its members with more of the customs and culture of the Spanish-speaking countries than the classroom will permit; and (2) to improve the fluency of the members in the speaking and understanding of the Spanish language.

Activities this year have included the conversion of the swimming pool into a Xochimilco and the breaking of pinatas as fund-raising devices for the Charity Carnival; dinners in Spanish Restaurants followed by Spanish movies; a Cervantes Day celebration on April 26.

Composed of ninety-three members, the Vicious Circle is the organization which accepts any students interested in mathematics. By selling doughnuts at milk period and by holding cake and rummage sales, the organization earns money to finance the annual Mathematics Tournament and to purchase special equipment for the mathematics department. The tournament has two participants from each school represented. Dallas, other Texas schools, Oklahoma and Louisiana have entries. After the tournament, a trophy is awarded to the winner at a luncheon in Tarry House for participants and sponsors.

The Inner Circle, the honorary organization of the Vicious Circle, recognizes honor students and stimulates interest in the Vicious Circle. Those belonging to the Vicious Circle taking mathematics and maintaining an "A" or "B" average are members.

The Dramatics Club is composed of girls who have merited memberships through tryouts and sincere enthusiasm for the theater. The number of members is limited to twenty-five. Meetings are held weekly. The Club aims toward three distinct phases of dramatic work: the first is the reading and consideration of drama as one of the chief divisions of literature; the second is the actual acting and producing of one-act plays; the third is the developing of individuality on the part of those who enter whole-heartedly into the constructive activity of the other two phases.

The Hockaday Concert Choir, informally known as the Glee Club, directed by Mr. Thomas Merriman, is composed of seventy-five girls from all Forms who sing for the love of singing. In the fall at Dad's Day the initial program of the year was a routine consisting of songs relating to various foreign countries, in keeping with the international theme of Dad's Day. Early in December a preview of Christmas music was given before the Dallas Bankers' Wives at the Dallas Country Club. The Sunday before Christmas vacation, at Highland Park Presbyterian Church, the Christmas Vespers program which included the Christmas portion of Handel's "Messiah," and "This is Noel," a modern cantata by Katherine K. Davis, was presented.

In March, the musical version of L. Frank Baum's "The Wizard of Oz" was performed by the choir. In addition to Mr. Merriman's direction of the singing, the staging and the choreography were by Vin Lindhe and Buster Cooper, respectively. On April 12, the Choir performed with the Dartmouth College Glee Club at McFarlin Auditorium in a program which included a part of Mozart's "Requiem." The final presentation was the annual Spring Festival held as a part of Commencement activities.

Truly, this year has been a wonderful and exciting one, full of many accomplishments of which the Choir is rightly proud.

Art Club

The Art Club aims to stimulate interest in art through numerous projects; these involve designing, decorating, and exhibiting art. A sincere interest in art and a willingness to give of one's talent are requirements for membership. Members receive their pin after five months of active participation. The chairman of the forty-two-member organization is Carol Aldenhoven; Jane Austin, vice-president; Margaret Cullum, secretary; and Barbara Beaird, treasurer; Miss Tool, sponsor.

Typing Club

The Typing Club is a very worthwhile activity, for it provides its members with the opportunity of becoming proficient in a valuable skill and of enjoying the friendly contacts of club life. Barbara Andrau is president of the Typing Club; Mrs. Harrison is sponsor.

onors

One of Hockaday's highest honors is The Courtesy Cap. It continues to hold prestige because the wearers realize that they must uphold its standards. The girls, wearing the Courtesy Caps, have proved themselves worthy in Courtesy, which is genuine respect for the rights of others; in Service, which is sincerity in giving of one's self to others; and in Loyalty, which is the constant support of school standards and the willingness to make one's self a part of the school.

A true spirit must be the inspiration for the qualities which make a girl deserve the Courtesy Cap.

Courtesy Cap

The Hockaday Ring is awarded to each girl in the IV Form and to ten percent of the III Form as a symbol of achievement in character and citizenship, two qualities important in a Hockaday girl. The wearer must have completed one full year of study prior to the awarding. The jade and gold ring is a continued source of pride to each girl, for she understands she must wear it with honor.

Since the very nature of the IV Form demands leadership, scholarship, and character, all IV Formers receive the Ring in recognition of their achievement. New IV Formers receive their Rings in the spring.

In the fall a faculty committee, composed of people who know the candidates well, selects ten percent of the III Form to wear the Ring as a special award. In considering the candidates, the committee members do not require high grades; the only qualification is that the girl work to her fullest capacity.

Because the privilege of wearing the Ring may be withdrawn and because the Ring is given to some III Formers, it is more than a class ring. The Ring is a bond between all Hockaday girls, because it represents the achievements of the past and the promise of similar excellence in the future.

Cum Laude

Membership in the Cum Laude Society has been the highest academic award at Hockaday since the Ela Hockaday Chapter was formed in 1945. Twice each year, in December and in May, the members of the Fourth Form who have maintained honor roll grades during their four years of Upper School and stand in the first tenth of the class are eligible for initiation into the society.

At the installation service held in the study hall on December 12, 1955, the secretary of the chapter set forth the object of the society and explained the motto, the president's charge was given, and each initiate received her certificate and emblem. The speaker for Cum Laude day was the Reverend Sterling Wheeler, Vice President of Southern Methodist University.

Quill and Scroll

Quill and Scroll, an international honor society for high school journalists, is open to girls who are members of the Annual or the newspaper staffs and make honor roll grades. Before membership is accepted, each eligible girl must submit to Quill and Scroll an original piece of creative writing which has been published. In addition, she must also be recommended by the sponsor of the staff of which she is a member.

Athletic Shield

The Athletic Shield which is worn with much pride on the Hockaday jacket is indicative of athletic ability shown by the girls who earn the right to wear it. In order to be eligible for this shield, girls must have been on all the Forms teams and on two out of four of the Green and White Teams. The recipient of this honor is recognized as outstanding in the field of athletics. This shield is awarded at the close of school.
